Classtime: Furniture 101

We know that some people don't think of us as a furniture store. Truth is, we actually sell more furniture than many "full line" furniture stores.

While we can show only a sampling of the over 300 pieces of solid wood furniture available, every piece can be ordered to fit your decor in a variety of stained or painted finishes. Not only is all of our furniture American made, but it's all built to last a lifetime using only the highest quality lumber.

Solid wood Amish Crafted
furniture is also available in Oak, Quarter Sawn Oak, Maple and Cherry woods. With soft corners, tongue and groove glue joints, dovetailed drawers and hand rubbed finishes, each piece promises to be an heirloom that will last a lifetime.

Our upholstered furniture companies each have years of experience making some of the country's finest & most comfortable furniture. You can find either traditional or contemporary designs that can be covered with nearly 800 different fabrics.

Every piece is made in North Carolina from the highest quality oak and maple hardwood frames, which have screwed-in corner braces, double-doweled joints, and built-in legs (that's really good!). Having eight way hand tied construction and metal band reinforcements, (that's really good too!) this furniture is truly a great investment! In addition, most orders are automatically upgraded to include inner core spring seat cushions at no additional cost to you!

Want a bit of a more contemporary look? We even have a company that makes all slip-covered furniture. The same great quality and care goes into making each piece, but the fabric is completely removable, washable, and interchangeable!

Come browse through the available fabrics and discover why these companies pride themselves in creating everything from recliners to sectionals that help make a house a home!

Byers' News

Our 2010 Byers' Carolers have arrived!

With dozens of brand new pieces, it's the best time to get the best selection of the year, and... they make a fantastic Mothers Day gift!

The Cries of London series has returned early this year and the new pieces look great! A Woman Selling Strawberries, and her two Children With Baskets, are sure to be busy cooking delicious strawberry pies!

Now that baseball is underway, check out this year's newest All Star! Dressed in vintage uniform, the Baseball Hall of Fame player figure was inspired by the Hall of Fame's collection of the 19th century artifacts, paying tribute to the early pioneers of the game.

If you don't have time to do it right the first time, when will you have time to do it again?

Chandelier Facts

chan · de · lier (shan · de · leer) n. an ornamental hanging fixture which supports several lights.

We are so often asked questions about our chandeliers, that we wanted to share some facts with you:

Size: A general rule is not to be afraid of a fixture being too large for a room. Most chandeliers have an open, airy design, and more often than not, too small is the problem.

The proper size should relate to the scale of the room: rooms about 12x14 feet could comfortably fit 18-24" in diameter, while larger rooms could boast chandeliers 24-30", or even double or triple tiered.

Height: How high or low should your chandelier hang? Depending on your preference for coziness or formality, the bulbs should fall between 32-40" above the table. Of course, there is no set rule here, and the height can always be adjusted to the look and feel you want to project. If walking beneath the fixture, be sure to leave a minimum of 78" of clearance.

Light: Commercial candelabra base bulbs range from 7 ½ to 60 watts. Larger wattage bulbs give off a lot of glare, and ambiance is best achieved with bulbs 25 watts or less. No matter what wattage you use, we always recommend a dimmer switch for the warmest, coziest feel.

Each of our chandeliers includes the mounting hardware, three feet of chain, and a ceiling plate. With dozens of lights to choose from, and an extensive catalog to look through, you'll easily find one that fits your needs!
